Human Services Organizations

GOVERNMENTAL HUMAN SERVICES ORGANIZATIONS THROUGHOUT PENNSYLVANIA ARE CHARGED WITH THE RESPONSIBILITY TO DELIVER INNOVATIVE AND COMPREHENSIVE SERVICES TO THE RESIDENTS OF THEIR COMMUNITIES WITH A SPECIAL EMPHASIS TO THE MOST VULNERABLE POPULATIONS WITHIN THEIR COMMUNITIES. WHILE THESE ORGANIZATIONS DIFFER IN THE CONSUMERS THEY SERVE, THEY SHARE THE UNIVERSAL GUIDING PRINCIPLES OF DELIVERING SOLUTION-BASED QUALITY SERVICES. THESE ORGANIZATIONS ALSO SHARE THE RESPONSIBILITY AND CONSTRAINTS OF PROVIDING THESE SERVICES THROUGH THE EFFICIENT AND EFFECTIVE USE OF THE GOVERNMENT'S AVAILABLE RESOURCES.

EXPERTS

Managing these organizations requires abilities that, in many ways, are unique to Pennsylvania county governments. Administrators need to possess the clinical and business skills to manage a complex web of service delivery options, funding and oversight agencies, contractual and sub-contractual relationships, and countless rules, regulations and financial reporting requirements. Many of these organizations have turned to the experts at The Binkley Kanavy Group to enhance and supplement these critical skills and to better utilize their organizations limited resources.

Our governmental human services clientele consists of leading Pennsylvania county human services agencies in the fields of Mental Health, Mental Retardation, Children and Youth, Aging, Drug and Alcohol among others. Many of these organizations have operating budgets that represent more than half of the entire county operating budget, thus the need for fiscal accountability and operating efficiency is as important as the services they provide. Engaging Binkley Kanavy allows the organization to focus on their primary mission of delivering solution-based quality services while having the confidence other vital skills are being guided by industry experts.

VALUE

The Binkley Kanavy Group believes being experts in rules and regulations, as well as accounting and auditing standards, are bare minimum requirements for any professional services firm engaging governmental human services agencies in Pennsylvania. Such experience should not be considered a unique qualification. What should differentiate one firm from another is the objective and outcomes of their respective approach. While other firms are engaged with the objective of delivering a report and feel successful when the outcome results in that report, we would not be satisfied. Binkley Kanavy's passion is to do more than issue a report. We exceed expectations by providing client centric solutions to better manage their organization.

PASSION

At Binkley Kanavy, we are successful in helping human services organizations because of the passion displayed by our team and the dedication we have to improving our clients' ability to administer high-quality services to those in need. Our team is committed to more than issuing reports. The Binkley Kanavy Group devotes the time to gaining an understanding of our clients' programmatic and regulatory environment. Due to our engaged approach, we succeed in providing a thorough assessment to our clients and then work closely with them to ensure they are informed and advised of methods to alleviate problems in a timely manner.

The attributes and collective set of values The Binkley Kanavy Group shares would amount to nothing without the passion we embody. With this passion we are capable of exceeding the highest expectations of our clients. Our thoroughness, diligence and willingness to look beyond the numbers are only possible because of the passion we bring to helping our clients be even more successful.
